CHARACTER THAT CANNOT BE RECREATED

Reclaimed building materials bear the marks of time, use and craftsmanship. Their subtle colour variations, irregularities and time-worn surfaces create warmth, atmosphere and character that new materials can rarely replicate. We bring together substantial lots, carefully select them and make them available again for restoration, renovation and distinctive new-build projects.

RECLAIMED BRICKS

1,500,000+ RECLAIMED BRICKS IN STOCK

From reclaimed handmade yellow bricks and traditional small-format Dutch bricks to warm red varieties and a wide range of other handmade and traditionally moulded bricks. Large and small lots are carefully cleaned, selected and graded for authentic reuse.

FROM STOCK TO NEW USE

Natural variations in colour, traces of lime and texture give reclaimed brickwork a vibrancy that newly produced bricks cannot match. The result is a facade with immediate character and a natural sense of history, warmth and distinction.

A FLOOR THAT GROWS MORE BEAUTIFUL WITH AGE

Reclaimed Dutch floor tiles owe their appeal to natural wear, colour variations and subtle irregularities. Because no two tiles are exactly alike, they create a floor that feels both lively and balanced. Ideal for restoration, renovation and interiors where authentic materials deserve a defining role.

ANTIQUE FRENCH TERRACOTTA TILES

2,000+ M² OF FRENCH FLOOR TILES IN STOCK

Antique French terracotta floor tiles are renowned for their warm red, salmon, ochre and earthy tones, often combined with subtle variations in shape, thickness and surface. Their time-worn, warm and rustic appearance makes every lot unique and ideal for interiors with character.

FRENCH TERRACOTTA WITH A DISTINCTIVE CHARACTER

French terracotta tiles are distinguished by their smaller historic formats, warm earthy tones and pronounced nuances. Lots from different regions and periods can often be combined beautifully, allowing larger floors to be created without losing their natural, time-worn character. On the contrary, this makes the result even more vibrant and exceptional.

HISTORIC BUILDING MATERIALS

PROCESSED ANNUALLY

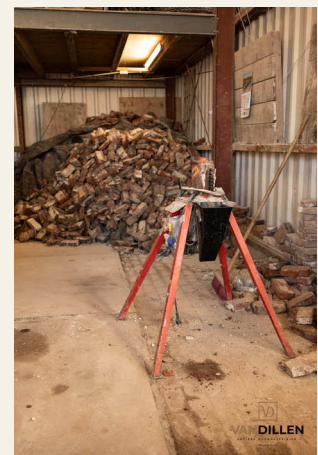

FROM HISTORIC LOT TO CAREFULLY SELECTED STOCK

Every lot follows a careful process centred on preservation. Materials are reclaimed, processed by hand and selected for quality, dimensions and appearance. Their original character remains visible, allowing valuable building materials to become part of the future once again.

01 RECLAIMING Historic lots are carefully secured, with close attention to provenance, quality and maximum material recovery.

02 CLEANING & SORTING Mortar residues are removed by hand. The materials are then sorted by quality, dimensions, colour and character.

03 SELECTING & STORING Selected materials are stacked by lot and stored clearly, ready for the right next application.

PRESERVING WHAT MAKES OLD MATERIALS EXCEPTIONAL

Patina, traces of lime, subtle nuances and small irregularities are not erased, but respected. They are precisely what give authentic reuse its warmth, atmosphere and exclusivity.

THE PAST BUILDS ON.

Materials once part of a building are given new meaning. Their natural patina, nuances and history create character and atmosphere that new materials cannot replicate.
